Get to know Zenit

Zenit is a testament to our dedication to blending functionality with exquisite design. Featuring a seamlessly integrated height-adjustable backrest and armrest, this chair ensures a customized seating experience that adapts to your every move effortlessly.

Equipped with a cutting-edge self-weight balance mechanism, this chair revolutionizes comfort by utilizing your weight as the counterbalance for the perfect tilt, promoting optimal posture and support throughout the day.

Designed with the discerning individual in mind, this chair is not only a statement of style but a testament to innovation. Elevate your office experience with our modern full mesh swivel office chair, where comfort meets sophistication in every detail.

The Feature

The permanent lumbar support on Zenit is designed to provide consistent and reliable support to your lower back throughout the day. This feature is strategically integrated into the chair's structure to promote proper posture and reduce strain on your back muscles.

The lumbar support is carefully shaped to follow the natural curve of your spine, offering targeted reinforcement to the lumbar region. By maintaining the natural alignment of your spine, this support helps alleviate discomfort and fatigue, allowing you to sit comfortably for extended periods.

With our chair's permanent lumbar support, you are encouraged to move while seating, the lumbar support will keep intact with your back no matter you are leaning forward or backward. You can enjoy the benefits of improved ergonomic design, better posture, and increased comfort, making it an ideal choice for those seeking a supportive and health-conscious seating solution in their workspace.

In real life, we always move while seating, body contact on the chair may vary, that's why this lumbar support is created.

The Lumbar support allows you to customize the chair to provide optimal support for your lower back.
